

Examples of products used in the automotive

Vehicle onboard measuring system

drive-line

These products can be easily measured by simply clamping and fixing in place. It is very comfortable to measure, because this eliminates the need to remove the shaft and attach strain gauges to it. This product has a long communication range so that free to choose the place where the receiving antenna can be placed in.

Frictional Type Torque Sensor System

Frictional type Axial Strain Transducer

[ Product ]

Frictional Torque Sensor System for Drive Shaft
FGDH-2A/-3A

Point Ready-to-use, calibrated beforehand.

▼ For more details

Frictional type Axial Strain Transducer
FGAH-1B-R / FGAH-1B-H

Point Easy to install. Time-saving for preparation.

▶ For more details

Measurement Software
Visual LOG Series
Multi-Recorder
Measurement Software
TMR-7630 etc.
Real Time Data Acquisition
Software
RD-7640 etc.

▼ For more details

These products are ideal for measuring torque of a car's drive shaft and axial force.